

Tactical Mast Kit

TMK7000

Lightweight and robust

The TMK7000 is a lightweight rugged mast offering significant advantages over conventional types. This unique roll-up mast is compact and lightweight in its transportable form, yet strong and versatile when deployed. It is designed primarily for patrol use but may be employed also as utility mast for stationary vehicles not having enough space available to carry a huge standard antenna mast.

Versatile

The interchangeable end caps are manufactured with an array hole to accept guy ropes and other antenna parts. This creates a versatile platform suitable for supporting all lightweight antennas for HF, VHF and UHF including DPA 7000.

Simple and fast deployment

Typically, the mast may be deployed by one person within 4 minutes at either full rolled-out height or at reduced height to suit operational requirements. Easily adjustable guy ropes with quick clip-on hooks add to the simplicity of the deployment process.

Small package

The complete mast kit contains all parts required for field deployment, supplied in a small carry bag. To minimize stowage the ancillary parts are assembled into a transit form as shown and inserted within the rolled-up mast.
